EDP Jax Hosts State-wide Design Competition

EDP-Jax (Emerging Design Professionals of Jacksonville) is proud to announce it's yearly design competition, the Sustainable |shed|. This year's competition is open to all EDP members, Associate AIA members, interns and architects in their first ten years of practice within the state of Florida.

In today's economy, many are finding it necessary to work from home or start a home-based business but may lack the space and/or privacy necessary to have a home office. The |shed| is a perfect solution for live/work entrepreneurs in a down economy. The |shed| is to be designed as a completely sustainable office shed on a typical residential lot, showing people what is possible with today's technology in the area of sustainable and modern design, and that it can be affordable and fit within any existing urban fabric to provide reasonable and beautiful solutions for today's burgeoning entrepreneurs.

July 1, 2010: Interns... Save the Date!

The Six-Month Rule goes into effect at 12:01 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time for all interns on this date. For more information on the IDP, CLICK HERE.

Ideas Competition 2010

Presented by the American Institute of Architects, the Young Architects Forum and the Committee on Design, this competition invites architects, students, and allied design professionals to submit sketches to the international 2010 YAF/COD Ideas Competition: Temporary/Permanent Relief Housing. In this year's unique sketch competition, submitters are asked to explore the issue of temporary relief housing that could have a permanent function, through a concept design problem.
