2013 AIA Florida/Caribbean Honor & Design Awards Program

Design Awards

■ The Award of Excellence

The objective of the Award of Excellence is to encourage excellence in architecture, to elevate public consciousness of good design, and to recognize those architects whose work enriches our built environment.

Architectural projects of all sizes and classifications are eligible, and include single buildings, groups of buildings, parks and plazas, historic preservations, additions, remodeling, adaptive re-use, and interiors.

The Award of Excellence is separated into three categories:

- New Work
- Renovations & Additions
- Historic Preservation & Restoration

Eligibility: AIA Florida, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands member architects. Projects can be anywhere in the world and must have been completed within the last five years.

Fee: $125

■ The Test of Time Award

The Test of Time Award recognizes distinguished single works of architecture and planned developments affecting more than one building, after a period of 25 years in which the function, aesthetic statement, and execution can be reassessed.

The project must be standing in substantially completed form, in good condition, and should substantially carry out the original program. Change in use is permitted when it has not substantially altered the original intent of the design. Buildings whose basic function have been modified, or have been adapted for reuse are eligible.

Eligibility: AIA Florida, Puerto Rico or Virgin Islands member architects. Projects can be anywhere in the world.

Fee: $125

■ The Unbuilt Design Award

The Unbuilt Design Award recognizes outstanding examples of recent, commissioned architectural designs not yet built or complete. The entry shall exemplify excellence in design while exploring the nature and science of the profession.

Projects should include single buildings, groups of buildings, urban designs, additions, renovations and extended use projects. Award winners are subject to verification. Entries must be commissioned for compensation on behalf of a client.

Eligibility: AIA Florida, Puerto Rico, or Virgin Islands member architects. Projects can be anywhere in the world, and construction must not be substantially complete prior to the deadline for receipt of entries.

Fee: $125

Honor Awards

■ The Gold Medal Award

This award recognizes an individual architect in Florida who has distinguished himself or herself in a manner resulting in a profound impact on the profession over an extended period of time. This is the highest award that AIA Florida can bestow on one of its members and only one may be given in a year.

Eligibility: AIA Florida member for a minimum of 10 years.

■ The Silver Medal – Hillard T. Smith Community Service Award

This award is given to recognize an architect whose leadership in community activities and service has been a direct benefit to the profession or community. The individual's leadership and service must demonstrate, beyond any reasonable doubt, qualities, outcomes in works of art, programs or civic influences that have benefited the profession or the community.

Eligibility: AIA Florida architects.

■ The Medal of Honor for Design Award

This award recognizes an individual architect in Florida who has distinguished himself or herself, by the high quality and originality of one's work, advancing the value and public awareness of good architecture over an extended period of time, and by one's leadership, provided an inspiration to colleagues and others. This is the highest award for design that AIA Florida can bestow on one of its members.

Eligibility: Any member of AIA Florida in good standing for at least ten (10) years, whose work under consideration extends over a period of not less than ten (10) years, is eligible for this award. Nominations may be made by any AIA Florida chapter or any five (5) members at large.

■ Theoretical and Research Design Award Category

Entries must be projects that are academic (executed as a class or terminal project under the supervision of at least one professor of an accredited Florida/Caribbean region architectural school); a competition entry (executed in direct response to an organized design competition entry requirement; or theoretical/research projects which are executed in the interest of the advancement of the profession).

Eligibility: Associates, interns and students who are members of AIA Florida, Puerto Rico or Virgin Islands; or the American Institute of Architecture Students (AIAS) in the Florida/Caribbean region. Entries must have been designed within the last five years.

Fee: $45

■ The Masonry Award

The purpose of the Masonry Award is to bring recognition to AIA Florida/Caribbean architects based on the technical and creative use of masonry in meeting aesthetic and functional design challenges.

Entries can be submitted for residential or commercial work, with at least 75% of the structure and exterior skin using masonry. The following masonry materials are acceptable: brick; block and stucco; architectural block i.e. split face, ground face and burnished; glass block; and stone.

Eligibility: AIA Florida, Puerto Rico or Virgin Islands architects. Projects must be within the Florida/Caribbean region. Entries must have been completed within the last five years.

Fee: $125

Sponsored by the Masonry Association of Florida

■ The COTE Sustainable Design Award

The COTE Sustainable Design Award recognizes excellence in the design of sustainable projects including buildings, building complexes and urban design projects by the architectural profession and is presented by AIA Florida. These Awards are intended to promote public awareness of the built environment and the design of sustainable projects.

Entries must be architectural projects designed by licensed architects at the time of design or submitted by the architect of record.

Two award levels may be recognized by the jury, “Honor Award” for Sustainable Design, the higher of the two levels, and “Merit Award” for Sustainable Design.

Eligibility: AIA Florida, Puerto Rico or Virgin Islands member architects. Projects submitted may be located anywhere in the world but must have been built and occupied within the past five years. Eligible projects can be of all types and sizes. Fee: $125

■ Firm of the Year

This award recognizes outstanding achievement in design, community service, education, and service to the profession and the AIA by an architectural firm.

Eligibility: The firm must be an AIA Florida Firm member and under the direction of substantially the principal(s) for at least 10 years.

Fee: $225

■ The Anthony “Tony” Pullara Individual Honor Award

AIA Florida has established this award because Tony Pullara devoted to service to AIA Florida over and above his professional capacities. It is hoped that this award will perpetuate his memory and those things for which he stood in our profession.

Eligibility: AIA Florida members.

■ The Anthony “Tony” Pullara Chapter Award

This award is intended to inspire all chapters to strive to exceed the Guidelines for Component Excellence as established by AIA and its members’ expectations, particularly in the areas of Public Awareness/Outreach, Political Effectiveness, and Membership Development.

■ William G. McMinn, FAIA Award for Outstanding Architectural Education Contributions

The AIA Florida William G. McMinn, FAIA Award for Outstanding Architecture Education Contributions is bestowed to celebrate an individual who has made outstanding contributions to architecture/education for at least 5 years, and whose teaching and values have inspired the young men and women who will ultimately shape our environment as architects.

Eligibility: Nominee must be a current or former member of the faculty of an accredited school of architecture in the state of Florida and living at the time of nomination.
