

Philip Robbie, AIA OAA has 30 years of international experience in all areas of architectural practice. These services include master planning, programming, space planning, interior design and architectural design. Philip serves as the National Design Director for RS&H. He has specialized in the collaborative process and is a graphics facilitator. His work has gained recognition in the profession through numerous AIA design awards, and as a visiting guest lecturer and has been featured in professional publications. Mr. Robbie has a diverse background in the demanding markets of higher education, aviation, healthcare and corporate clients.